

welcome to your Persian Delights gift box!

We are delighted to offer a range of exotic Persian delicacies for your enjoyment. The confectionary and dried fruit items included in this gift are distributed by a family company based in Sydney – Pariya Food. They have direct family links to Iran – most of the confectionary is made at their family factory in Isfahan, southern Iran. The family has been in the confectionary business for many generations, passing on their expertise and recipes through the generations.

We have included some background on the various delicacies as we feel sure this will enhance your enjoyment of them.

Pashmak has been recently discovered here in Australia by top chefs who are always looking for something different to surprise and delight their diners. And they have been on a real winner with pashmak, known outside of Iran as Persian fairy floss. It is usually found on the menu as the finishing ‘trim’ to a fine dessert, however we love it just as is! To serve, fluff it out into fine strands and drape attractively in and over a glass dish, preferably a long stemmed one. A few strands in the mouth provides a taste sensation not to be forgotten.

Sohan (Persian toffee) is also hand made in the family factory in Isfahan. In addition to butter, sugar and honey, there are slivered almonds, pistachios, saffron and cardamom. The spices add a wonderful traditional middle eastern flavour!

The delicacies we have chosen go together to form the basis for a fun get together, maybe after dinner or for afternoon tea in the garden. In Iran, tea would be the favoured drink in winter, rather than a sharbat.

We hope you have as much pleasure from this gift as we have had in sourcing and researching it!
